

REALE ACTIVES × SEPHORA

Your life. Your Reale routine.

A proposed partnership by Paris Hoffman. Reale earns customers beyond its founder by giving Sephora shoppers a manageable way to choose and try a starting product.

The campaign

The Reale Routine Check pairs a short advisor conversation with a take-home card and focused trial. Founder content introduces it. Adult creators, advisors and product education keep it useful after the reveal.

The exchange

Reale gains: additional discovery, lower trial friction and evidence of repeat demand.

Sephora gains: a creator-driven visit with a useful service and a measurable category contribution.

The test

Propose eight activation stores, eight standard-launch stores and a 12-week acquisition pilot. Measure full-size conversion, category uplift and 90-day repeat. Illustrative activation budget: $150,000.

Commercial terms and actual margins determine expansion.

Meeting ask: feedback on the launch problem and a joint feasibility conversation.

Independent speculative portfolio work. No affiliation, endorsement or launch results. AI-generated hero concept. Current brand and retailer sources, assumptions and implementation details appear in the companion deck and playbook.
